Outlook

The year 2023 marks the start of all-around implementation of the spirit of the 20th CPC National Congress. China's economic recovery is back on track, and prospects for rising resident income and heightened consumer confidence will bring about more demand for insurance. Industrial upgrading, rural invigoration, green insurance, inclusive insurance, health and elderly care services, and private pension scheme will lend sustainable impetus to the industry. Insurance funds will seize investment opportunities in the building of a modern industrial system and major projects. The regulator sets great store by risk control, continuing to enhance supervision of corporate governance and institutional conduct, which will facilitate steady and healthy development of China's insurance market.

With the vision of "leadership in healthy and steady development of the insurance industry", we will pursue high-quality development, and stay committed to value growth and long-termism. We will continue to strengthen core insurance business, implement 3 key strategies, i.e. health care, regional integrated development, and big data as well as improve customer-oriented business management. Meanwhile, we will promote ESG philosophies, while forestalling major risks to ensure sustainable development.
